SATURDAY, AUG. 14, 1909.

The Galveston News suggests the best investment a moss back can make for his town is to purchase a railroad ticket for his own use.

If you can't boost don't knock. If you can't say a good word for your town, just keep your mouth closed. If you are not a helper just keep quiet and don't let anybody find it out.

The glorious rains have converted a brown and parched earth into a glorious and smiling land—despair has given place to promise and hope has put a new song in our hearts.

It is reported that the Postmaster General will come to Texas this fall and hunt with Col. Cecil A. Lyon. This also means that when Col. Lyon goes to Washington gunning for good, fat, juicy postoffice for his friends, he will have no trouble in bagging them.

The long red headed state senator from Dallas is still stirring up hornet's nests. His latest is to dig up and read right out in meeting a bunch of old letters that are calculated to give one Thomas M. Campbell and one H. Bascom Thomas a severe jolt right under the fifth rib.

Mrs. Adolph Wollachinger of New York, takes the cake for being the hardest woman in the world to please. She quit her husband for not doing more for her, and here are some of the things he did: Most of the housework—Made the fire and cooked the breakfast—Served his wife's breakfast in bed—Prepared wine and beaten eggs for her—Bathed her feet—Washed her hair—Pared her corns and toe nails—Warmed her underwear at the stove before she arose in the winter—He did all that and yet she kicked out of the harness.

Cone Johnson continues to skin the fellows who believe in disregarding party platforms. He shows, just as the Herald has been preaching, that to disregard the platform of the party is to ignore the existence of the party. The platform is the party faith, and without such declaration there is no party organization, and naturally no party obligation. Mr. Johnson says some of the politicians regard the party platform very much as the platform on a passenger car—merely to get in on—Palestine Herald.

Even so; yet as a platform repudiator, the name of Cone Johnson, like that of Abou Ben Adhem, leads all the rest. He not only repudiated the platform, but tore the name of the peerless Bryan from the head of his ticket and with his boot heel stamped it into the earth. Mr. Johnson's late devotion to platforms is not an ordinary "passenger car" proposition, but to try to swing into the gubernatorial car headed for the big Mansion at Austin.

WHAT THE EDITORS THINK.

Just Golf.
Fort Worth Record.
When the Myopia links begin to tremble the people need not stir up an earthquake scare. The president is playing golf there.

Unpoetic.
Seguin Enterprise.
The poets rave about the beautiful sunset. But to the ordinary individual these days the attractive feature is the fact that it has set.

A Firm Seat.
Beaumont Journal.
King Alfonso seems to have had a much firmer seat on his throne than the professional throne-rockers of Spain thought he had; also more nerve.

Best of News.
San Antonio Express.
Speaking for Southwest Texas the Express feels warranted in saying that the rains of the past few days have greatly improved crop prospects and the farmers in this section feel assured of a good yield of cotton as well as of other crops.

The Quiet Life.
Sherman Democrat.
Wonder what's the matter? We haven't had a new candidate for governor to show his head or get in the newspapers for a week.

Who's Who?
Dallas Times Herald.
When the wren tackles the sparrow hawk in the political arena there will be a piteous squeak, a tiny cloud of feathers and all will be over.

A Fine Asset.
Nacogdoches Sentinel.
Good streets—better streets—are mighty good things. Push them along. We need them badly and besides we need some street crossings, too.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Andrews-McKee.

Mr. Clarence Andrews and Miss Virginia McKee were united in marriage Tuesday evening at 8:30 at the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, by Rev. Mr. J. F. Boeye.

The decorations of the church were principally palms, ferns and smilax. Palms and other potted plants were banded around the chancel rail, which was artistically intertwined with smilax.

Preceding the entrance of the bridal party, Miss Paul Rogers sang impressively "To the End of the World With Thee." The wedding march was played by Miss Gracie Wallace.

The ribbon bearers, Little Misses Mae Kendall, Katherine Boeye, Beattie Smith, Pansy Ward, Clara Shelton, Helen Ward, Zola Kerr, Dagmar Champ, Helen Austin and Florence Haney, were dressed in dainty white frocks, as was also the ring bearer, Little Miss Almada Chandler.

Miss Jean McKee, a sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor, and wore a blue lingerie gown, elaborately trimmed in Val lace. She carried an arm bouquet of white carnations.

The ushers were Messrs. Mortimer Smith, Arthur Massey, George Swartz, Daniel Claypool, Kenneth Douglas and Fred Thorne.

The bride, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. W. McKee, is an attractive young woman with a host of admirers. She wore as her wedding gown, a creation of white silk mull with dainty lace trimmings and veil caught in place with lilies of the valley. Her bouquet was of white thiberoses.

The bridegroom, who is a valued employe of the Kindel-Clarke Drug Company, was attended by Mr. Ross Stewart.

A reception will be given Thursday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, at the home of the bride's parents, corner Grainger and Cannon avenues.—Fort Worth Star Telegram.

One of the prettiest affairs contributed to the week's gaiety was the morning party given to the T. L. D. Thursday. The wide, cool gallery which is enclosed by running vines was converted into an out door drawing room by the use of rugs, sofa pillows and chairs with handsome palms and ferns for the decorations. Here the guests were received by the hostess and her mother Mrs. J. T. Hanway and were given a hearty welcome. Forty two and five hundred was the plan of pleasure and so acceptable did the guests find the games, that although they had assembled at an early hour, high noon found them still engrossed with the merry combinations of the fascinating games. Dainty dishes filled with mints were placed on the game table and enjoyed during the progress of the games. Miss Ida Wiprecht was fortunate in receiving the prize, an A. A. eshman. The guest prize, a Villa Maria penic, went to Miss Harrison of Fort Worth. Miss Madeline gave her guests a morning of unqualified pleasure and with a luncheon prettily served at twelve added much to the enjoyment of the event.

Notwithstanding the warm weather, the Busy Bee club manifested a lively interest in their weekly meeting. That Miss Florine Batte was hostess on Tuesday was sufficient guarantee that interest would be sustained. A cut glass bowl filled with iced grape juice was placed on the cool and inviting lawn where the guests were entertained and was dispensed all during the party hours which was quite refreshing to the guests. The entertaining Little hostess had planned many games as means of diversion for her guests, chief among these was a memory contest. Numerous articles placed on a table were shown the guests for a few seconds, then they were given cards with pencils attached and given the task of naming the articles from memory which was found much harder to do than the guests first thought for. A daintily served refreshment course and the presenting of a souvenir to Miss Susie Sanders concluded the pleasures of the afternoon.

Postals from Mrs. Lillie Chance and Miss Frances Chance from Mineral Wells state that they are pleasantly located and are well pleased with their visit to the wells.

An event which was most heartily enjoyed took place on Monday evening when Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Astin entertained informally for Mr. Jim Astin. This beautiful home is frequently the scene of pleasant gatherings but none seemed more enjoyable for the young people than on this occasion. The gallery and lawn were made comfortable and with pretty decorations were used for the entertaining of the guests. Games that were quite entertaining were enjoyed by all present. From a handsomely decorated table placed on the lawn dainty refreshments of fruit punch and sandwiches were served all during the evening. At a late hour the guests separated in a happy frame of mind at having such a delightful evening under the management of such a congenial host and hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Will E. Astin and Miss Newton of Austin, a sister of Mrs. Astin's have been enjoying a visit to Mineral Wells.

Miss Leslie Mawhinney has invited the T. L. D. club to meet with her on Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Miss Nellie Batte will leave in a few days for Houston.

Doan's Kidney Pills procured from Emmel & Maloney's drug store, stopped the pain, strengthened by kidneys and brought results that were gratifying in every way."
